

Iron And Steel

Demand Is Fair
Copper Coins
Japan's Needs

DEMAND for iron and steel products has subsided again after the activity of two months but there is still a fair amount of business pending. Orders recently taken involve small lots, but they are in such considerable number as to indicate that the market is in need of new supplies. There is a fair inquiry for tubes and wire nails, but the demand for galvanized sheets has fallen off, compared with what was experienced in this line in August and September. The flow of orders for iron and steel goods is not the same, by any means, as last month. Vladivostok has not been buying very much recently, but from Harbin there are coming various orders for steel products, principally railway materials. A good business has been done in this line with America.

China copper mints are buying electrolytic copper, but on a small scale. Copper coins have improved in value, and it is expected that a better demand for electrolytic copper will soon set in from the mints. Compared with two months ago, copper coins are some 15 percent better and with copper quoted lower on the New York market there should be a decent profit for the mints in China. Unfortunately, these organizations have poor resources, and are not able to make purchases. Only one mint out of four is functioning at present, namely the one in Hupé. The others in Changsha, Anking and Kailong have stopped work.

HALF CAPACITY

The output of the Hupé mint is not known, but it is believed that it is working at present at half usual capacity. It is natural to suppose that should these mints that have at present ceased operating continue closed for another two months the appreciation in copper coins will be greater. In other words, it will be a blessing in disguise and take much of the sting out of the complaint of the Shanghai Tramway Company that it is losing by depreciation of copper coins.

Stocks of electrolytic copper in Shanghai are estimated at about 100 to 200 tons, while those in Hankow are about 500 tons. The supplies are sufficient for some three months, but this must act as reserve until the quantity contracted for is delivered. Consignments are coming through slowly. The opportunity to make money on the part of the copper mints is greater today than it was some two months ago, but the profits from minting are below what could have been secured in 1919 to 1921. Copper coins in 1919 were quoted at 135 coppers to a Mexican dollar. In 1920 the average was 140 coppers to a Mexican dollar; in the following year it was 150 coppers and for the ten months of this year the average is 180 coppers. During 1919-1921 the price of electrolytic copper on the Shanghai market was Tls. 28 to Tls. 29 per picul today it is standing round Tls. 30 per picul. It would be seen that compared with the price of copper, the rate for coins is lower than before.

COPPER IS LOW

Electrolytic copper is rated in New York at 12-75 gold cents per pound L.O.B. New York, the lowest figure to which it has declined this year. It might be added that in March, when it stood at 17 1/2 gold cents, orders from Shanghai for it were restricted in nature, and although it is today selling at 12-75 gold cents the amount of inquiries is slightly larger, whereas it should have been considerably better.

The big output of copper coins from the mints of China in the past two years had served to bring the value of the coins to a low figure, hitting the poor man very hard. It is quite likely that the depreciation will be made good by the enforced closure of the three mints at the present moment.

So far the Japanese catastrophe has not affected the copper market. Japan has been a heavy buyer of American copper for some years, although the tariff bill introduced last year reduced the takings from the United States. That substantial quantities of electrolytic copper will be needed by Japan for rehabilitation purposes is a reasonable conjecture. Already very large orders are going to America for sheets, nails and wire for the restoration of the area devastated by the earthquake. An important feature of the current Japanese demand is the inquiry for galvanized sheets. Under normal conditions the tonnage of galvanized sheets imported into Japan is small owing to the high protective tariff, which happily is suspended in view of the present urgent demand.

PLANTS DESTROYED

The tremendous destruction of buildings would naturally cause a large increase in demand for sheets and spelter, and it is doubtless true that stocks of spelter and galvanizing plants were destroyed in the earthquake zone in which about 25 percent of the very large

PATHS OF TWO EXPLORERS CROSS IN SHANGHAI

Roy Chapman Andrews Leaves
—Dr. Sven Hedin Arrives

The paths of two great explorers crossed in Shanghai for a few hours yesterday when Roy Chapman Andrews, who has just come out of Mongolia with scientific data and bones—and twenty-five eggs—that tell the tale of the dinosaurs, stopped overnight before sailing for the United States on the President Jackson and Sven Hedin, the famous Swedish explorer, famous for his expedition to Lhasa, arrived on the Tenyo Maru from San Francisco.

Mr. Andrews was accompanied by Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborn, the noted American scientist, who has just completed a visit to the exploration fields in Mongolia. They are also taking numerous cases of fossil bones of the ancient and gigantic animals that once roamed the plains of Mongolia and the first evidence ever discovered that the dinosaur was an egg-laying animal. Dr. Hedin probably knows the hinterlands of Asia better than any living man. He has travelled through Persia, Khorasan, Turkestan, through Asia from Orenburg to Peking via Lop-nor and Tibet, been decorated for his explorations numerous times and written a number of books on his discoveries and experiences. Dr. Hedin is at the Astor House.

He advocated keeping a large number of cruisers and destroyers throughout the world to guard Dominion trade.

RUHR STEEL IS HELD A MENACE BY ENGLISHMAN

Great Stocks Waiting To Be Dumped At Below Market Price

(Reuters Service)

London, Oct. 15.—Sir William Joynton-Hicks, speaking at Hounslow on the question of unemployment, said that in addition to the relief work already in progress the Cabinet had authorised a further expenditure of £14,000,000, making a total of approximately £40,000,000.

He stated that the large stock of iron and steel in the Ruhr waiting to be dumped at below price constituted a menace which it would be stupendously folly for the Government to allow.

Sir William stated that the program of reconstruction included 150 bridges, and orders totaling £2,500,000 would be placed with the steel trade almost immediately.

BERLIN PLANS NEW CURRENCY ON GOLD BASIS

"Rentenmarks" Will Be Issued By Privately Owned Bank

(Reuters Service)

Berlin, Oct. 15.—Under the dictatorial powers conferred by the Emergency Law, the Government has decided to launch a new currency scheme largely on the lines of the Bill for the creation of a new currency, which aimed to provide for the establishment of a currency bank by agriculture, industry, trade and commerce, the new money to be called the "Bodenmark" and the bank to be independent of government intervention.

The new unit of currency will, however, be called the "Rentenmark" and will be issued by a new privately-owned bank called the Rentenbank, backed by gold securities. The Rentenbank will place 1,200,000,000 Rentenmarks at the disposal of the Government. Paper marks will also be legal tender.

Diplomats Protest Use Of Customs Surplus For Funding Internal Loans

(Reuters Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 16.—A memorandum from the Consortium Ministers to the Waichiaopu on October 12, published today, refers the Waichiaopu to the Consortium memorandum of December 23, in which attention was called to the fact that, while the unsecured foreign debts and obligations of the Chinese Government were being liquidated, the service of the Chinese portion of the $96,000,000 loan of 1922, thus earmarking for the service of these internal loans the whole of the surplus accruing from the present Chinese Customs tariff and precluding the use of the latter as security for any general debt consolidation scheme.

The attention of the undersigned ministers has been called to the memorial of the Ministry of Finance recommending permanent continuance of the aforementioned scheme and its extension to the service of the Chinese portion of the $96,000,000 loan of 1922, thus earmarking for the service of these internal loans the whole of the surplus accruing from the present Chinese Customs tariff and precluding the use of the latter as security for any general debt consolidation scheme.

GOV. PIN HOT MAKES ATTACK ON PROHIBITION

Dry Law Is Failure, Asserts Leading Progressive Republican

(Exclusive China Press)

Washington, Oct. 15.—Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, leading progressive Republican and among those already prominently mentioned for the Republican nomination for the presidency in the next elections, made an attack on prohibition at the Citizenship Conference here today.

Governor Pinchot declared that the prohibition law should be measured by the respect it was accorded by the people, and said that on such a basis it was plain that it had failed because no sincere, concerted, intelligent, nationwide effort had been made to enforce it.

The dry law had also failed, he said, because corrupt politicians had banded together in rings to get around or deliberately break the law under political protection and because many prohibition enforcement officers were prone to accept bribes.

"The situation has grown so bad that only President Coolidge himself can meet the emergency," Governor Pinchot declared.

The Pennsylvania Governor's speech has caused considerable political talk in official circles here. Some see in it a clever attempt to force President Coolidge's hand in prohibition question, thus alienating some political support—which ever side he takes—at the present time. Gov. Pinchot's boom, accordingly, has received fresh impetus from the "wet" forces without, so far, alienating any of the "dry" leaders because of the careful terminology in which his speech was phrased.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—The Saxon Government has unsuccessfully protested to Berlin against General Mueller's prohibition of the formation of "proletarian entities" and similar organizations in Saxony. General Mueller has incurred further displeasure in Saxony by forbidding the holding of a Saxon and Thuringian Workers' Councils Congress at Dresden on October 18.

Yankees Defeat Giants In Sixth Game; Are New World's Champions

Bullet Joe Bush Holds McGraw's Men To Three Hits While Teammates Rout Four National League Hurlers

(Exclusive China Press)
New York, Oct. 15.—The New York Yankees, the "Yankees," today defeated the National League champions, the "Giants," in the sixth and what proved to be the deciding game of the World Series. The American League team thus became World's Champions for 1923. The victory of the Yankees this year was the eleventh to be recorded by the American League since the inauguration of the World Series, in 1905. The National League has won the highest honors in baseball eight times since the series started.

The score of today's game was 8 to 4 in favor of the Yankees, making their third straight win. The American League won the first game and then the Giants won two in a row.

(Exclusive China Press)
New York, Oct. 14.—The Yankees took the lead in the World Series race today by winning the fifth game, 8 to 1. Today's victory was due chiefly to the masterful pitching of Bullet Joe Bush, who held the Giants to three hits, all of which were garnered by Emil Meusel. The Yankee sluggers drove four Giant pitchers out of the box. The lone Giant run was scored by Emil Meusel, who opened the second with a three base blow to left and scored on an out. The Giants were completely out-classed both at the bat and in the field.

E. CHINA COLLEGE TENNIS TEAMS TO PLAY FOR TITLES

Championship Series To Be Staged At Nanking
This Week

The East China Intercollegiate Tennis Championship series will be played at Nanking beginning Friday. The four colleges in Shanghai, St. John's, Baptist, Nanyang, and Fuh Tan, will send their contestants tomorrow by the morning express. Soochow University players will leave for Nanking on the same train. It is reported that Hanchow Christian College will drop out of the championship series.

The first round will be played on Friday afternoon on the grounds of the Nanking University and the Southeastern University. The semifinal games will be played on Saturday, and the final ones on Monday. The Shanghai and Soochow players are booked to return Tuesday morning.

All the college players have been under rigid training since the opening of the fall term, and it is hard to predict which team is going to be the champions.

Shanghai College is very strong in the doubles and Fuh Tan University has an excellent player in singles. The winners on doubles will be presented with a cup donated by the Agents of the Spaulding Athletic Goods Co., and the singles champion will receive a cup from the Ramsey Co., a local agent of a British rackets manufacturer.

Following is the probable line-ups of the local colleges: Shanghai College; Chen, Wang, Tung Ling, and Zuo. St. John's Herbert Ma, and T. T. Yui.

Nanyang College: Ting and Leo Fuh Tan; Yang and Woo.

Correspondence

Sports Editor:

Today I squandered twenty cents of my good money on a sporting magazine, and being slightly interested in such things, I opened it at random, and on page 7, under the caption "Boxing Notes and News," I noted an inset over the caption of "A snap of Iron Bux and George Ingle for the Welter-Weight Championship of the Philippine Islands. Ingle was kayoed in the 9th round."

The writer happens to know the circumstances connected with this picture. The photograph was taken at Nozalea Park, Manila, Philippine Islands, on July 4, 1918, the contestants being Stanley Jones, Middle-weight Champion of the Orient, and Iron Bux. The referee was Mr. Altin, a well-known Manila attorney and sportsman. The bout was given for the benefit of the Red Cross during War-time, and Mr. Jones, who was then an officer in the Philippine Guard, was given special permission to box for this occasion. He was awarded the decision in a fast and furious four-round go, and was presented with a gold ring, which is one of his proud possessions. When last heard from, Mr. Jones was boxing-instructor at the University of California.

George Ingle was brought out from the States and proved a failure. Anyone seeing the illustration, and knowing the contestants, would immediately know that Ingle was not "in the picture." To begin with, he is a smaller man than Iron Bux, and fights in an entirely different style from Stanley Jones, who, in this particular bout was handicapped by the shorter stature of his opponent.

Iron And Steel

the capacity of Japan is limited. In contrast with other metals in Japan, galvanised plate is very brisk. Factories are being run to capacity, but the output does not keep pace with the demand. The Japanese market quotes 70 yen per sheet, showing an upward tendency. Lead is rather overstocked in that country owing to large arrivals from Australia, and purchases are reduced, the quotation being fixed at yen 14.80 per 100 lbs.

Wire shorts are only moderate in price in the Shanghai market at present prices, which Chinese buyers consider too high. Steel sheets have specified shipment in two to three weeks and hence were without result. The advance in American prices of 20 cents per 100 lbs. in black sheets and galvanised sheets has so far had no effect on the local market. The reduction in the price of American plates, shapes, bars and hooks and wire products might very likely stimulate consumption.

HONGKONG TIN

Shaozhong district has not started buying tin seriously owing to the fact that farmers in that district are still busy on their farms. The can-making industry there will be in full blast shortly and then a bigger demand for tin should set in. Some buying of Hongkong tin is still being indulged in, but the high prices ruling are interfering with the expected flow of orders. Standard tin is quoted at $293 per ton, while Hongkong is standing round the 75 per cent buyers, with sellers asking a tad more. Stocks of Hongkong tin in Shanghai are small. Shaozhong district has at the present moment of this grade of tin some 3,000 to 4,000 slabs in stock. Straits tin is quoted at Singapore dollars 100 per picul, but there seems to be nothing doing in this in the local market. There has been a fair amount of purchasing in Shanghai of cut nails and an order for steel hoops has gone to the United States. China is buying plate cuttings from Great Britain.

ROBERTSON-COLE Presents PAULINE FREDERICK in "SALVAGE" A STORY OF MOTHER LOVE BY DANIEL C. WHITCOMB

-:- Modest Missionaries -:-

BY LARRY LEBRAS

"To say that Yihien is 20 miles from Lincheng in the southern part of Shantung and 20 miles from Pao Tzu Kou the famous bandit stronghold, would be the easiest way to locate the city for the public. Our Presbyterian Compound is outside the compound and is very near the railway. The railroad that runs through Yihien is a line that goes from the large coal mines at Tsao-chuang to the Grand Canal. This line in turn is connected with the main Tientsin-Peking railway by a branch line from Tsao-chuang to Lincheng. We have been very much pleased this year that some of the distinguished visitors from the U. S. to the Orient found a trip to Yihien was easily possible.

The above extract is taken from the annual report of the Yihien mission of the American Presbyterian Church and may be immediately classified as one of the most brilliant pieces of emulating the w.k. shrinking violet ever expressed by a missionary in China. It is the only mention made of a month's work by the various members of the mission in behalf of the twenty odd foreign captives who were held at Pao Tzu Kou and the members of the relief party that spent a month at the murky little coalmining village of Tsao-chuang attempting to secure their release.

When the Rev. C. H. Yerkes, the mission head, first heard of the Lincheng bandit raid through grape-vine Chinese channels he immediately sent an old Chinese woman who was a member of his flock to the bandit's stronghold in the mountains carrying food and instructed to obtain all the information possible. The old woman, carrying the basket of food—home-made bread and other mouth-watering eatables—right out of Mrs. Yerkes' kitchen. It was the first foreign food the captives received and the first food of any kind that was possible to eat in several days.

AND BLANKETS
As soon as the old woman returned to Yihien with exact information as to where the bandits were camped she was sent back with all the blankets the mission boasted. And the blankets were the first covers of any kind the foreign captives received. Before they came they had slept on the ground, on pig-sty floors—anywhere. Jerome Henley said he went to sleep one night on a rock! And maybe those blankets weren't appreciated.

While the old woman was on her way back to the mountains the Rev. Yerkes jumped on board the little rattle-tang train that plies between Yihien and Tsao-chuang twice a day, and made a full report to Roy Anderson, who headed the relief party that secured the foreigners' release. R. J. Nall of the Asia Development Company, who did such splendid work, and American Consul Davis of Nanking. It was the first accurate information they had concerning the exact location of the bandit camp and the condition of the captives.

None of those things are mentioned in the mission's annual report.

THIRTY DAYS
Rev. Yerkes and his brother and sister missionaries kept on doing the same good work for a month—until the last captive was released. Every day he made the trip from Yihien to Tsao-chuang and back again. And every time he came he brought something from the mission for the captives and the workers. Sometimes it was fresh vegetables from the mission gardens—and there wasn't another fresh vegetable within miles of the coal mines—sometimes it was loaves of wonderful, white, home-made bread. Sometimes it was a facker of ice-cream, magazines, and newspapers—luxuries, dainties, in a place where they couldn't be secured for love or money.

During the same period Dr. Emma Fleming, the mission doctor, sent over the first medical supplies that Carl Crow sent to the bandit camp for the foreigners, including individual anti-dysentery prescriptions, with complete data on just how and when "to take." And back at the mission William E. Winter, principal of the Shantung Agricultural and Industrial School; and Rev. Donald A. Irwin, in charge of the country school work, were doing their bit. Other members of the mission happened to be away at the time.

The annual report goes into statistics to show the good work the mission has done among the Chinese, the evangelistic work—there wasn't a Christian to be found in the whole countryside a few years ago, and now they've had to build a dandy new stone church to house them on Sundays. It tells of the splendid work Dr. Harding and Dr. Fleming have done for the Chinese and describes the new hospital that the mission itself was building at the time of the Lincheng affair and is just completing.

FUTURE FARMERS
It tells of the work that Mr. Winter has done—how he started off with a handful of pupils, all boys, and developed a school from which several prominent young Chinese have already graduated, where they are taught everything from carpet-weaving and the making of furniture to modern agricultural methods. Half a day they work, and earn their way through school, and half a day they study. After work and school hours they engage in athletic activities of all sorts. They've got a crackerjack baseball team and several future crack sprinters and jumpers.

Girls are educated in the same way. Half a day they make lace and half a day they study to become good wives and good Christian women.

There's a great deal more the Yihien Presbyterian mission has done, and does. The annual report doesn't begin to cover the work they do, and we haven't the space here.

One paragraph in the report must, however, be reprinted: "Evangeline Booth was once asked by a reporter: 'Do you think the world is getting better?' Quickly she turned toward him and answered: 'I am doing all I can to make it better. What are you doing?'

The Yihien mission is delivering the goods. We know—we saw it in operation for a month—and they can be just as doggone modest as they want to but the fellows that came back from Pao Tzu Kou and Tsao-chuang won't forget.

Former Head Of Philippines "U"
On Route HomeAmong passengers who passed through Shanghai on the President Jackson, which sailed for the United States yesterday, was Dr. Guy Potter Benton, who has just resigned as President of the University of the Philippines. Dr.
Benton's resignation, because of his ill health, has been predicted for some time but his decision came as a last minute surprise.He had already booked passage to the States for long leave when he definitely decided that itwould be impossible for him to return to the islands. He therefore submitted his resignation, which became effective October
10.During his incumbency Dr.
Potter has raised the standard of the island university until it now ranks with American state institutions and laid out a comprehensive plan of development that will in a short time cause it to rank with the best schools in the world.No one has as yet been decided upon as his successor but Senator Rafael Palma has been elected acting president pending an

Every Morning at Breakfast take a draught of SANATOGEN

This will give you that extra nerve-energy which makes you feel "fit" and fresh all day and it will save you from Heat prostration

SANATOGEN in the morning means a better day's work—means that you feel brighter, fresher, and keener all day, in spite of the exhausting heat, while your powers of resistance to typhoid, cholera, dysentery and nervous disorder will be enormously increased.

TRY IT!

SANATOGEN'S power to increase nerve-energy has been definitely proved, in the words of Sir Charles A. Cameron, C.B., M.D., etc. President of the Royal Institute of Public Health:—

Sanatogen is an excellent nerve-food of the highest nutritive value, easily and completely digested.

GET A BOTTLE TO-DAY

ALL CHEMISTS SELL SANATOGEN

Never forget that Sanatogen is a food, not a medicine or a "secret remedy." It increases nerve-energy by feeding the nerves—not by goading them with drugs or stimulants. Its action is as natural as that of any ordinary food: it must do good, and it cannot do harm. That is why doctors give it even to babies. And that is why so many Europeans in the East take Sanatogen regularly, all the year round—not as an occasional "tonic," but as a part of their daily diet. You should do likewise, if you want to keep your nerve-energy at the highest pitch, and to avoid the debilitating effects of the great heat

Britain, France and Italy are going to investigate Germany's capacity to pay. They will first, we understand, make a survey of the country's printing presses.

"Tsao Kuhn Elected President of China."—headline in Manila Times. We have it on good authority that he is no relation to Bert Kuhn, telegraph editor of THE CHINA PRESS.

REMARKABLE REMARKS
"China cannot give in to the Lincheng demands."—Dr. Alfred S. K. Sze.

"Marriage at best is but a friendship sanctioned by the police."—Sarah Bernhardt.

"The trouble with China is entirely political. I wouldn't attempt to predict what is likely to happen."—Major S. W. Bogan.

"The boss will increase your salary when you increase his profits."—Coleman Cox.

"Work is the great saving element in human life. Without it the faculties slowly deteriorate or perish."—Solicitor General James M. Beck.

"Claret is the liquor for boys, port for men; but he who aspires to be a hero must drink brandy."—Samuel Johnson.

"I wish we had some boasters in England," says Lloyd George, adopting a shrinking violet air. Patience, George, patience—you're only on a visit to the United States.

CHINESE POETRY

It was in the province of Fui-Fui, And you called me your Little Stick-in-the-Mud.

And did not scowl at me Or lose your temper

When I gave you the Glad-Eye. It was on the ninth day Of the fourth month

Angora has been made the new capital of Turkey. That'll get somebody's goat.

II.
The matter of unpaid claims against the Chinese Government, the tariff and recently imposed provincial taxes on various commodities are other issues on which the commercial men will likely deliberate.

These problems, and others which will doubtless arise, are of serious importance to all foreigners having business in China and the delegates assembling here to ponder them may be assured of the support of their fellows here and elsewhere and of a sympathetic realization of the difficulties presented.

THE SKIMMER
The skimmer is chiefly noted for its peculiar bill, which looks like a pitchfork. And to complete the comparison, it certainly makes hay while the sun shines. Skimming over the surface of the water, the bird swoops down upon a school of fish with its peculiar bill wide open. The bill plows through the horde of fish like a steam shovel, packing them in like sardines. In this manner the skimmer can get a whole meal in a second's time. When no fish are available, the skimmer uses its versatile bill to ply clams and oysters apart.

France Still Bearing The Heaviest Burdens Of War, Says Millerand

(Reuter's Pacific Service) Paris, Oct. 14.—Speaking at Evreux on Sunday, M. Millerand recalled that France was bearing the heaviest burden of the war.

He drew a picture of the present situation in Europe, expressing the hope that Russia, who was insincerely prepared for free institutions, would free herself from chaos as soon as possible, and emphasizing that Germany had desired the struggle in which she had been engaged.

The triumph of right could not accord with partition of Poland and continuance under Hapsburg domination of various oppressed and protesting nationalities. M. Millerand then declared that never had a reasonable idea had more force than at present. He praised the League of Nations, the first idea of which originated from France, and affirmed that the new States, whose first need was external security, knew that France, whose law was respect of treaties, would not permit the order created by the victory to be troubled. France claimed her due. Her fervent desire was to draw closer the bonds of friendship and alliance, knit by the common peril, with nations whose sacrifices she would never forget.

The French people were honest men; they made a duty of respecting right and the will of nations; they pushed their scruples so far as to sacrifice to that end the important guarantees for their security. France waited three years, during which she perhaps exaggerated concessions, before resigning herself with her Belgian friends to the right to use constraint which the Treaty of Versailles and general principles recognised as hers. M. Millerand recalled that France had advanced 100 milliards on account of the defaulting debtor. He praised the good sense and patriotism of the French taxpayer. France was courageously bearing the burden of peace as she had accepted the trials of war.

The total of taxes in 1913 was 460 francs a head and reached 2,478 francs in 1922. These figures eloquently showed the effort of the taxpayers, France being incontestably a country of small fortunes. M. Millerand emphasised the restriction carried out in expenditure and the beginning made in reduction of the number of officials. He declared that fiscal duty remained the patriotic duty par excellence. He praised the admirable advance in French agriculture which would soon furnish what was necessary for all Frenchmen, and the admirable effort of France's colonial domain in connection with which he explained that an active campaign was already giving results.

He then traced the lines of internal policy and sketched the possibilities of an ultimate revision and better adaptation of the national constitution. He added that the hour would come when it would be possible to reduce the term of military service. France was attached to the maintenance of peace with too much sincerity and fervour not to hope that that hour would come soon. The surest guarantee of peace was that the order of things which had arisen from the war should be so strongly rooted that nothing could hope to overthrow it.

France could not forget the lesson of 1914. French Socialists had made confidences in good faith to German Socialists, who perhaps themselves until the day when the storm burst had not clearly taken into account that they were Germans before being Internationalists.

Justly proud of her victory, so dearly bought, and resolved not to allow any of the legitimate fruits of it to escape her, France knew that civil peace as well as external peace, that concord amongst her citizens as well as an understanding with other nations was the first condition of fruitful labour and social progress. Sedition and dissensions would succeed neither in obscuring the clarity of her judgment nor in shaking the solidity of her good sense. Nothing would prevail against her clear-sighted will.

(French Wireless through Reuter) Paris, Oct. 14.—The Temps states that the speech, made on Sunday at Evreux by the President, being a program is also an act. M. Millerand has used his right as chief of the State to speak on policy to the nation. In his speech, with the methodical spirit which has always been his characteristic, M. Millerand has left no problem of the present hour in darkness.

On each page he gave in succinct style his opinion. The harmony of the national idea, strengthened by the war, and international co-operation, justified in peace; the situation of the devastated regions and the advances made to restore them by France in place of defaulting Germany; the resumption of relations with the Holy See; the impartial application of the law of associations, with authorization provided for congregations; the fiscal measures which liquidation of the costs of war imposed, in which connection he pays a tribute to the patriotic courage of the Chambers which voted them; the restriction of expenditure and the decrease in the number of officials created by the war; the reduction of Statism; the boom in agriculture; the exploitation of the colonial domain; the maintenance of the birth-rate; the development and re-modelling of higher, secondary, primary and technical education; the definition of authority and liberty; and the duration of military service, the President of the Republic made an inventory of all these questions which are exercising France.

School Attendance In Philippines Up (Reuter's Pacific Service) Manila, Oct. 12.—There are 43,265 more pupils in the public schools of the Philippines this year than last year, according to the Bureau of Education. This year there are 917,577 children enrolled in the public schools, as compared with 874,312 enrolled last year. The primary courses lead, with an enrollment of 717,914. Intermediate courses come second with 131,358 enrolled.

Cebu province leads in the matter of provinces, with 60,514 while Manila has only 52,283. Mandanao and Sulu, the Moro provinces have a total of 41,144. Batanes has the smallest number of students, with only 54, or whom 14 are girls.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)
Osaka, Oct. 15.—The American relief workers in Tokio and Yokohama, having turned over the hospitals which were temporarily placed under their care to the Japanese Red Cross, arrived in Osaka this morning. Tonight they are being entertained by the Osaka authorities and tomorrow they will spend sight-seeing in Kyoto, after which they will leave for the United States.

Upper Silesian Strike Is Waning

(French Wireless through Reuter)

CORRECTION

J. Herbert James (not Herbert Jones) is the name of the competitor in the Lympne gliding meeting who tied with Flight-Lieutenant W. H. Longton for the Daily Mail's £1,000 prize and for the Duke of Sutherland's £500 prize, by flying 87½ miles on one gallon of petrol.

Turks, Austria To Open Negotiations

(French Wireless through Reuter)
Paris, Oct. 15.—Havas announces that pourparlers with a view to resumption of diplomatic relations between Turkey and Austria will take place at Constantinople. Adnan Bey, Munir Bey, and Luahim Bey will represent Turkey. M. Kral, the Austrian Minister at Sofia, will head the Austrian delegation.

PHILIPPINES LEGISLATURE GETS BUDGET

Appropriations Are Kept Within Estimated Income

(Reuter's Pacific Service)
Manila, Oct. 10.—For the first time in many years the Executive's draft of next year's budget will be submitted to the Philippine legislature on the first or second day of the session, which opens on October 16. This year the Governor-General has had ample time for drafting the budget, receiving the co-operation of the acting secretaries of departments who relieved the regular secretaries, who resigned on July 17. The budget for the coming year calls for expenditures totalling P66,739,428 or P808,743 more than the authorized expenditures for the present year. Also, for the first time since the advent of Governor-General Harrison in 1913, it will be less than the revenues of the government for the year. The estimated surplus next year will be P1,202,513 from total revenue of P67,941,942. It is expected that this current surplus will be appropriated to apply to the 1923 deficit of P2,179,153.

Most of the increase in the 1924 budget, it was explained at the Department of Finance, will go towards paying increased interest on the public debt. Slight increases are made in the estimates of a few departments but as against this, other departments have been slightly reduced.

INSTITUTE HAS SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING HERE

Conference Of All Religions For Peace Interesting Event

The regular semi-annual meeting of the International Institute of China was held Monday afternoon in the hall of the Institute. Dr. Gilbert Reid was in the chair. Reports of the work in Peking and Shanghai by Dr. Reid, the director, and Mr. George Locher, the Shanghai secretary; the best use of the property and the kind of work to be done in the buildings, when the lease expires in July next year were all carefully considered.

The main feature of the work in Peking has been that of the weekly paper in Chinese, the International Journal, which has an increasing circulation. The main work in Shanghai has been the Chinese exhibit and monthly conferences of religion. Those present were enthusiastic as to the future.

The Sunday meeting of the International Institute in the interests of peace was declared a gratifying success. Sir Robert Hottel was in the chair and in his brief remarks expressed his pleasure at being able to be present at a conference of adherents of all religions. Dr. Gilbert Reid explained the object of the meeting as being one to unite followers of every religion in a crusade to oppose war and to bring about peace, especially in China.

The speakers called upon were Professor Shastri, of Hinduism; Mr. Dady Burjoe, of Zoroastrianism; Mr. Yang, of Confucianism; the Abbott of the White Cloud Temple, representing Taoism; the president of the Buddhist Society; a Sikh representative; Pastor Y. Tsung-chou, of the Independent Christian Church; Mr. Mah Hsing-chou, delegate of the Moslem community; Mr. Yu Chih-hsin, of the Swastika Society. There were also present representatives of the Orthodox Russian Church. Each speaker expressed his belief in the cause of universal peace, wished success to Sir Robert Hottel in his plan for a round-table conference and told how his particular religion taught righteousness, charity and peace.

France's Mandates Well Administered

(French Wireless through Reuter)
Paris, Oct. 14.—The Academy of Colonial Sciences, under the presidency of M. Hanotaux, on Saturday heard a lecture on the exercise of mandates in the former German colonies, which showed that France had conformed with the rules which she had accepted and that her methods recommended themselves by their social aims and their humaneness. The Academy instructed a commission under the presidency of Dr. Calmette to study means to guard against the underfeeding from which the native races were suffering.

In the Open Desert

Major Blake, describing some of his adventures on the great attempted Round-the-World Air Flight, writes:—

"On several occasions when we were stranded in the desert with little or no food, Bovril was most valuable. I recollect one of the bitterly cold nights in the open desert when our escort machine and ourselves had to land miles away from anywhere. We sat huddled up under the machine unable to sleep through cold, until we drained some petrol out of one of the tanks and heated some of our small supply of water. Then we opened up a Bovril tin, enabling us to thoroughly warm ourselves and get a little sleep. I cannot overestimate the value of this food to us. I should be extremely loath to undertake a trip of this nature without this food."

Schools In Japan Are Quickly Reorganized

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Oct. 9.—Those educational institutions in Tokio which came through the September disaster with little or no damage to their structures, almost without exception reopened on the first of this month. And not only that but they were able by a readjustment of their organisation to afford accommodation to other schools less fortunately situated than themselves.

Those institutions, like the Imperial University, which were situated within the fire zone and were wholly or partially destroyed, are all endeavouring to open as soon as possible. It is expected that the erection of temporary barracks or the repairs to the buildings still standing will be sufficiently completed to allow a partial resumption of studies by November 15 at the latest.

Where possible, similar arrangements are being made by those in charge of middle and primary grade education, but in view of the numbers involved the results are not quite so satisfactory, though the suburban schools, which are intact, have taken in as many pupils as they can possibly hold.

Both in Tokio and in Yokohama there are a considerable number of privately owned middle schools, which have for the immediate future and probably for a considerable time been put out of commission by the destruction of their buildings and apparatus. It is impossible at present to say what the fate of these schools will be, unless private support is available. Their loss would be a serious one, as the number of Government-supplied middle schools is by no means sufficient to supply all the demands for that grade of instruction.

According to a statement made by the Educational authorities, it is intended to give financial assistance in the rebuilding of primary and middle schools in the devastated areas. The former will, it is believed, be re-erected entirely at the Government's expense, while the latter will be helped to the extent of fifty per cent of the cost. This will call for an appropriation, according to estimates, of eleven and a half million yen. Further than this, it is expected that the Department of Education will make a contribution towards the necessary supply of textbooks and school equipment for the pupils. This contribution is not estimated at a large amount, as public subscription is being taken up in other parts of Japan to meet this need.

Not the least among the losses sustained by the Tokio Imperial University is that of its library, which has elicited sympathetic offers to support from all parts of the world, as well as from various scholars in Japan. It is stated that within the next few days two professors, who will represent the University, are starting for Europe and America in order to consult with those who have generously offered their assistance in re-establishing the library and to arrange for the transportation of the necessary books.
